how teams work together.

How to run this HH! Moment (3-5 minutes)

When to use it

During a team discussion, meeting, or decision where collaboration matters.

It can also be used as a quick reminder when the team feels stuck, misaligned, or talking in circles.

How it works

- Show the three common traps.
- Invite the team to notice which one appears most often in your work.
- Explore the small shift that could help the team catch it earlier.

Why it helps

Naming common traps helps teams spot them sooner and make small adjustments that improve how people work together.

Tips

Keep the tone curious, not critical.
The goal is not about analysing behaviours but to notice patterns and try small shifts.

Common traps that affect collaboration

Which of these feels familiar?

1

Assuming instead of checking

We move forward based on what we think others meant, without confirming

Small shift

Pause and ask: "Is this what you meant?"

2

Listening to respond, not to understand

People focus on preparing their reply rather than fully hearing the other person.

Small shift

Pause and summarise what you heard before adding your view.

3

Silence when something feels off

People notice misalignment but hesitate to raise it.

Small shift

Name the tension early, even briefly.
